Our Volunteer Training and Team Building day was fantastic! This was for our team of summer volunteers... 4 people couldn't make it, and we have a couple new volunteers starting this fall!

On our day together, each one of us was personally impacted and ministered to, and even after 7 hours together, we still went 1/2 an hour over because nobody wanted the day to end. People shared their hearts, tears came from deep places, there was emotional authenticity and vulnerability, and beautiful fellowship! It was team building of the most powerful and profound type!

We started the day with prayer, teaching and worship, and ended the day with prayer, worship and communion. In between, we did a group EAL and a fun type of challenging activity.... "Tarp Turnover", where the whole team stood on a tarp and, without stepping off the tarp, they had to turn the tarp over. This is a common team building activity, but when you add a HORSE to the equation, it changes everything! So, with 10 people AND a horse on the tarp, with none of them - including the horse - stepping off the tarp, they had to turn the tarp over!! This activity confirmed that God has raised up an incredible team, because they achieved this in less than 7 minutes!

They started on the silver side of the tarp...

Ladybug and Boaz were very curious, and Kat was very patient...

They all ended up on the brown side of the tarp... and yes, the rest of the group really is back there lol!
